Having read the comments of a GR friend about the difficulty of reading the unabridged Confessions I'm glad it was this excerpted version that I ended up with instead. On the first level, it is clear that Augustine would never have broken with his sinful past except for the persuasive words and powerful example of his friends.

Since God obviously would have known Augustine's transgressions before the

1 Commencing with the invocation of God, Augustine relates in detail the beginning of his life, his infancy and boyhood, up to his fifteenth year; at which age he acknowledges that he was more inclined to all youthful pleasures and vices than to the study of letters. It is impossible to do .
